Join in or listen, choir has something for all

Members of the public were invited to raise their voices in song Thursday at city hall's Christmas Choral Celebration or to simply enjoy the vocal stylings of All The King's Voices, Toronto Beaches Children's Chorus and the Toronto Mass Choir. Musical accompaniment was by the Tower Brass and the event wound up with a visit from — who else? — Santa himself.

Christmas critters — a family treat

► Toronto Zoo walk a unique opportunity to see winter animals ► Event raises money and food donations for charity ► Walk has become a tradition for some, zoo worker says

A winter tradition with bite, the 35th annual Christmas Treats Walk roars into the Toronto Zoo Sunday.

The family event celebrates winter wildlife while raising money for the Endangered Species Reserve Fund.

Animal lovers of all ages can expect to see a menagerie of cute critters on the approximately hour-long walk, which offers a chance to glimpse reindeer, a snow leopard and Siberian tiger.

Admission is half price, with free hot chocolate at the end of the walk — as long as supplies last. The zoo is asking visitors to bring a non-perishable food item for the food bank.

Pigeon predator causes a stir

► Hawk has been lurking around park for three years, official says

A red-tailed hawk, showing no fear of people — or anything else for that matter — has set up a killing zone for pigeons in Moss Park.

It lunches on them in broad daylight and in clear view of motorists and pedestrians at the corner of Sherbourne and Queen Street East.

People wandering to and from Moss Park Arena snapped cellphone shots of the hawk devouring a pigeon in a tree on Wednesday. It carried the pigeon to the lowest branch, and within minutes all that was left of it were the feet and a few feathers — still visible on the branch a day later.

But observers say the hawk's diet is not limited to pigeons. Squirrels and rats have reason to fear for Good riddance?

► Sympathy for the pigeons was in scarce supply among people outside the arena Thursday. One man, asked if he'd heard about the hawk's hunting habits, said he hadn't, but added: "Good for it."

their lives, too.

"It seems like this corner," said Graham Willcock, who operates Moss Park Arena.

He tells a recent story of the hawk on the ground just outside the arena doors, clutching a rat with its talons, as children walked by.

"The kids weren't scared. They were fascinated," he said. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

East end. Flooding

► Workers clean up after a broken water main flooded the area around Malvern Town Centre in Toronto's east end Thursday.

STEVE RUSSELL/TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Water main makes a mess

The 30-centimetre main began gushing just before noon after being punctured by work crews in the Neilson Road and McLevin Avenue area. City crews had to wait for the pooled water to drain before salting the road and reopening it.

Crosswalks won't be changing their tune

Little birdies will continue to guide visually impaired pedestrians through Toronto crosswalks, despite a movement to replace the chirpers in other Canadian cities.

Hamilton and Halifax will soon join Montreal in updating accessible pedestrian signals in east-west crosswalks with four descending musical notes known as the "Canadian melody." The north-south cuckoo sound will remain the same.

Roberto Stopnicki, director of Toronto traffic management, said there have not been a "significant number of complaints" about the chirping sound, so the city has no plans to make the switch.

The change in other cities stems from a 2008 report by the Transportation Association of Canada, which found that the chirping signal is "too readily mistaken" for the call of the northern cardinal.

Energy drinks use worries experts

► Adolescents and college students consuming high-sugar energy beverages to improve alertness

Imtiaz Miah knows that excessive caffeine consumption isn't good for his health, but the fourth-year electrical engineering student at Ryerson University turns to caffeinated drinks to help him stay alert to get his schoolwork done.

In his room, Miah displays all the empty containers for energy shots he's consumed over the last two years of school, a collection that numbers somewhere around 125. He said he's interested to see how many he will accumulate by graduation, at which point he hopes to kick the habit.

"I guess you could say I'm starting to rely on them," he said.

A recent study published in an American Psychology Association journal has confirmed what students like Miah already know to be true: That consuming energy drinks in small doses can improve alertness and decrease response times on a test measuring behavioural control.

But many experts are still concerned about the consumption of sugary energy drinks among adolescents and college students and are calling for more research.

No appeal in twin sex assault case

► Ontario Appeal Court agreed woman did not consent to have sex with boyfriend's identical twin brother

A sexual assault case in which the victim thought she was having sex with a man's identical twin brother will not be heard by Canada's highest court.

The Supreme Court of Canada has denied the man, who cannot be named, leave to appeal his conviction.

After a party one night in September 2006 the woman, who had consumed most of a bottle of wine, went to sleep in the bed of a man with whom she had a consensual sexual relationship.

Appeals

The man appealed his sex assault conviction, saying the trial judge was wrong in finding the mistaken identity meant the woman didn't consent to sex.

► Appeal declined The Court of Appeal for Ontario upheld his conviction earlier this year and yesterday the Supreme Court of Canada declined to hear his appeal of that decision.

Later, she awoke to someone having sex with her and assumed it was the man with whom she had a relationship.

She called out the man's name several times and when he said nothing throughout the act she turned on the light, only to discover it was the man's twin brother.

In the Ontario Appeal Court decision in June, the panel of judges wrote that the woman did not agree to sexual intercourse with anyone other than the man with whom she had a relationship.

Supreme Court will hear music previews case

The Supreme Court has agreed to hear a case involving whether previews of music downloaded from the Internet should be subject to royalties. The Society of Composers, Authors and Music Publishers of Canada is suing Bell Canada, Rogers and other communications companies over copyright infringement. After losing the rights to royalties in 2007, the society took its case to the Federal Court of Appeal, which refused to hear it.

Argument over immigrant funding stirs

► MP calls $53M cut 'draconian' ► $340M budget has increased from $111M since Tories inherited it: Minister

SEAN KILPATRICK/THE CANADIAN PRESS

Immigrant settlement service funding cuts decried by the Liberals as "draconian" are necessary to ensure taxpayer money is used efficiently, Citizenship and Immigration Minister Jason Kenney said Thursday.

The Liberals are urging the government to reverse a decision to cut national settlement funding allocations by $53 million a year.

"I don't think I've ever seen such a harsh and draconian and inexplicable cut to the most vulnerable people in our midst," Toronto MP Bob Rae said.

The cuts for immigration

► Liberal MP Bob Rae

settlement services come after steady increases since the $111-million budget was inherited from the previous Liberal government, which had frozen funding for 13 years, Kenney said on a conference call.

After a request for proposals was put out this year and bureaucrats analyzed the responses, some agencies did not get their funding renewed, Kenney said.

"The organizations have to meet certain performance measures," he said.

"They have to serve a large number of clients, they have to have solid programs, financial accountability, measure their outcomes and be responsive to the local needs of the communities they're serving."

When I had my stroke, SickKids kept my parents from being paralyzed.

Marlowe, 2
Suffered a stroke at birth.

When an adult has a stroke, it's devastating. When a newborn has a stroke, it's unimaginable. Just ask Kari and Declan, Marlowe's parents. An MRI revealed a stroke had permanently damaged a significant portion of their baby daughter's brain. They were terrified. That's when Marlowe's doctor threw them a lifeline. "Everything to do with strokes is different when it comes to babies," he said, "Babies are incredible. They rewire, learn and figure things out. You watch. You'll be amazed." He was right. At 24 months of age, Marlowe has been hitting all her cognitive benchmarks. SickKids researchers are trying to discover the causes of childhood strokes and how to prevent them.

We have to find more ways to improve the health of children. Research is key. Scientific breakthroughs will lead to better vaccines, drugs and other treatments that will slow disease and save lives. Discoveries mean kids like Marlowe will have a brighter future. Your donations help pay for leading-edge equipment and facilities that help our researchers turn lab findings into improved care for kids. You fund the training of the next generation of child health experts. Without you it will be simply impossible to sustain the world-class research that takes place at SickKids. Baldwin sues Costner over deal with BP

► Actor claims he was excluded from a meeting during which BP agreed to pay deposit on centrifuge order

PETER KRAMER/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS FILE

Stephen Baldwin has sued fellow actor Kevin Costner over their investments in a device that BP used in trying to clean up the massive Gulf of Mexico oil spill.

The federal lawsuit filed in New Orleans Wednesday by Baldwin and a friend claims Costner and a business partner duped them out of their shares of an $18-million deal for BP to purchase centrifuges from a company they formed after the April 20 spill.

BP ordered 32 of the centrifuges, which separate oil from water, and deployed a few of the devices on a barge in June. BP capped the well in July and kept more oil from leaking until the seafloor gusher was permanently sealed in September.

Costner's publicist, Arnold Robinson, declined to comment Thursday on the suit's allegations.

► Stephen Baldwin

Baldwin and his friend, Spyridon Contogouris, owned shares in Ocean Therapy Solutions, the company that marketed the centrifuges to BP.

But Baldwin and Contogouris claim they were deliberately excluded from a June 8 meeting between Costner, his business partner Patrick Smith and a BP executive, Doug Suttles. At the meeting, the suit says, Suttles agreed to make an $18-million deposit on a $52-million order for the devices.

Baldwin and Contogouris say they didn't know about the deal when, three days later, they agreed to sell their shares of the company for $1.4 million and $500,000, respectively.

The two say they were entitled to shares of BP's deposit. Instead, their suit claims, Costner and Smith "schemed" to use money from BP's deposit to buy their shares in the company.

Costner and Suttles visited Port Fourchon, La., in June to talk about the plan to use the centrifuges.

"It was designed to give us a fighting chance, to fight back the oil before it got us by the throat," Costner said at the time.

A Norwegian newspaper says it has obtained the entire trove of 250,000 uncensored U.S. diplomatic documents that WikiLeaks has been distributing.

The announcement Thursday appears to make Aftenposten the first media organization outside WikiLeaks' five partners to obtain the material, a development sure to heighten U.S. government fears that the public release of some uncensored diplomatic cables could endanger informants' lives.

THE ROYAL MINT/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

► The "warts and all" portrait of William and Kate has drawn the ire of royalty buffs.

Royal coins: An inconvenient truth

► Commemorative coins derided for likeness of royal couple ► William looks more like Al Gore, critics say

That's Kate Middleton? Britain's Royal Mint on Thursday released a commemorative coin featuring portraits of Prince William and his bride-to-be, but critics say the results are far from lifelike.

Images of the couple on the memento bear little resemblance to either the prince or his betrothed. Middleton, 28, appears plump in the face and lips and has bags under her eyes, while some critics suggest William looks more like former U.S. vice-president Al Gore.

The £5 ($7.75 Cdn) coin — which costs £9.99 ($15.50) to buy — marks the Nov. 16 engagement of the second-in-line to the British throne. The couple will marry April 29.

"This coin is of historical importance, so to get it so wrong seems ridiculous," Ingrid Seward of Majesty magazine told Britain's Sky News.

The Royal Mint said the coin was designed by its in-house engraving team and both the Queen and Prince William had given their consent to the design. Staff used photos of the couple to produce the images, it said.

Panic dash

► Retailers counting on male, not female, shoppers to save the day

For men on a mission, there's success (finding the perfect gift), there's failure (giving up and hitting the pub) and then there's the safe choice: The gift certificate.

In Britain — battered by economic woes and a shopping season shortened by snowy weather that clogged traffic and delayed deliveries — the final hopes of rescuing the retail season rest on last-minute shoppers, predominantly men who are desperate to find a credible gift before it's too late.

This pressure is expected to bring record numbers of nervous, credit-card-toting consumers into Britain's malls as retailers forecast the most intense shopping binge of the year. "It is a phenomenon," one retail manager said. "Each year there's always the last-minute sort of desperate kind of guy looking for that special gift without even the slightest clue what it might be. They don't know the height of their partner, or the size of their partner, and then they're embarrassed that they don't know."

Experts say that today should see the most intense shopping activity of the year, especially because so many people need to buy fresh food for their gala Christmas dinners. Demand has built up during the past five days as much of the country has been paralyzed by treacherous icy roads.

Even without the weather factor, there has been a strong trend in recent years for people to buy presents later in the Christmas season, said Richard Dodd, spokesman for the British Retail Consortium.

Overheated housing sector to cool in 2011

► 'We anticipate a fairly lacklustre year for residential housing, with modestly higher sales volumes': Expert

Canada's housing market was one of the best performers — and one of the most volatile — among advanced countries in 2010, but appears poised for a lacklustre turn next year, Scotia Economics says.

This year, Canada was among six of 12 countries studied that saw home prices increase, according to the bank's year-end Globe Real Estate Trends report issued Thursday. Other countries that saw price advances included Australia, the United Kingdom, France, Sweden and Switzerland.

Prices in the U.S. and Germany were flat, and those in Ireland, Italy,

Housing stalls

- An International Monetary Fund report said Canada's overheated housing market combined with record levels of consumer debt are risks that could curtail future economic growth.
- It said Canada's housing sector has reached its peak and may be due for a correction, although a collapse is unlikely.
- The Canadian Real Estate Association has projected a 4.9 per cent slide in sales this year and a nine per cent decline next year.

Japan and Spain fell.

In Canada, an unusually active winter and spring — prompted by pent-up demand coming out of the recession, along with expectations of rising interest rates and higher taxes being introduced in two provinces — gave way to an unusually soft summer.

Sales returned to a more typical, sustainable level in the fall.

Adrienne Warren, senior economist at Scotia Economics, predicts a more subdued Canadian market in 2011 as interest rates remain near historic lows, but in a climate of global economic uncertainty.

5 MINUTES WITH: SANTA'S HEAD ELF

The "Head Elf" at Canada's top Santa School (yes, they have a school) makes a list of what it takes to be a stellar St. Nick.

Why would someone enrol in Santa School?

The two most common reasons are that people want to volunteer for organizations, or want to have a part-time job, often-times after retirement. What do you teach in class? You've got one of the biggest icons in North America, so it takes a lot more than just putting on a cotton beard and saying, "Ho ho ho." We teach them how to speak, how to walk, how to enter and exit, how to care for their beards. And then, once the children are sitting on their knees, there are sometimes tough questions thrown at them so we want to make sure they can deal with that. Because not every child's life is really wonderful and we want to make sure the children aren't misled, that they have a good experience.

That's far more involved than people would think.

It's far more involved. Because Santa is such a big part of people's holiday celebrations, people have been dressing up as Santa at parties. And as well-meaning as that is, it's usually the president of the company or somebody's dad and they just put on an elastic-secured beard. That's been part of the downfall in people not thinking Santa's real, when you and I both know he's real. If it's not done well, it loses some of the magic.

You took over the school from Victor Nevada, who was considered the best Santa in the country. What made him so special?

He had a lot of empathy. He didn't have a very good childhood himself so I think he tried to recreate one for other kids. Over and above that he was a very good actor. And he also had that little twinkle in his eye — not everybody has that.

Is that what you try to impart to your Santas?

Some is innate but most things can be taught. Still, the right attitude has to be in place.

Have you ever had students who just couldn't quite get it? We did have one fellow who found himself an elf through the whole experience, so it's not like he was demoted, but he was really a much better elf than Santa!

Up there Down Under

Worth mentioning

Mysterious lights in the sky and even a flying saucer are among the reported UFO sightings detailed in classified documents released by New Zealand's military this week.

The thousands of documents cover more than 50 years of New Zealanders' reports of encounters with unidentified flying objects.

Most files suggest natural explanations for the sightings, including meteors and reflections off boat lights.

Among the reports was one from a man who wrote a letter in 1955 to inform authorities he had seen flying saucers, even witnessing one take off.

The files also cover the country's best-known UFO mystery in 1978 in the southern island town of Kaikoura. A cargo plane reported strange lights following it and air traffic controllers detected radar blips they could not explain.

The documents showed the government carefully took note of such reports, even if some citizens only received a polite thanks for their theories.

New Zealand's Defence Force released the files Wednesday under a freedom-of-information request.

Metro Minute with alternative Christmas

Life in this big, beautiful multicultural stew we call home means having a number of great options this weekend for those who don't celebrate Christmas. One favourite, er, tradition involves Chinese food and a Hollywood flick, a tradition so widely practised in certain neighbourhoods you're advised to reserve a table weeks in advance.

For last minute revellers, head to 331 Spadina Ave. so you can line up for an hour outside Lee Garden.

Bundle up because their succulent avocado and beef tenderloin dish makes the wait worthwhile. After dinner, travel a few blocks south to ScotiaBank Theatre to take in The King's Speech. Get popcorn because you'll be hungry in an hour.

Hollywood offers plenty of winter fun

SCENE@METRONWS.CA

Winter may be upon us but at least there's warmth in the cinematic fire that's stirring in 2011. With the new year kicking off everything from dramatic festival favourites (Biutiful, 02/11) to a Roman epic adventure (The Eagle, 02/11), multiplexes will be warming up in 2011. Here's Metro's look at the most promising movies to hibernate with through the chilly season:

Other notable winter titles:

- Season of the Witch (01/07)
- The Dilemma (01/14)
- Another Year (01/14)
- The Company Men (01/21)
- Casino Jack (01/28)
- The Rite (01/28)
- The Mechanic (01/28)
- Big Mommas: Like Father, Like Son (02/18)
- The Adjustment Bureau (03/04)
- The Dark Fields (03/18)

Note: All release dates are subject to change and might be different in each market.

► The Green Hornet opens Jan. 14.

January

It all begins with Gwyneth Paltrow crooning away as a washed-up western singer in the redemptive drama Country Strong (01/07) and filmmaker Sofia Coppola (Lost in Translation) observing the lonelier side of being an A-list celebrity in Somewhere (01/07).

However, the action heats up when Seth Rogen debuts his masked crimefighter The Green Hornet (01/14) in a 3-D adaptation of the 1960s TV show. If critical darlings are your thing, Michelle Williams and Ryan Gosling quarrel as volatile lovers in Blue Valentine (01/07), while Incendies (01/21) Canada's submission to the Oscars, is a time-shifting drama that's racking up acclaim just in time for its release.

And where would January be without a fluffy rom-com? Worry not: Ashton Kutcher and Natalie Portman are platonic friends trying to maintain an aloof sexual arrangement in No Strings Attached (01/21). Didn't Seinfeld test this premise 20 years ago?

February

If you haven't seen enough of Stratford's biggest pop star yet, you can catch Justin Bieber: Never Say Never (02/11) in 3-D. Also in the third-dimension: the animated garden gnome comedy Gnomeo and Juliet (02/11) and Drive Angry (02/25) featuring Nicolas Cage as a very vengeful father.

Meanwhile, Adam Sandler convinces Jennifer Aniston to help him score in Just Go

With It (02/11), while bored hubby Owen Wilson gets a Hall Pass (02/25) from his wife to have an affair.

But February is defined mostly by suspense, with films such as the college-themed horror flick The Roommate (02/04), sci-fi blockbuster I Am Number Four (02/18), Liam Neeson's mistaken-identity thriller Unknown (02/18) and the James Cameron-produced underwater nail-biter Sanctum (02/04).

► Liam Neeson stars in Unknown, which opens Feb. 18.

March

Johnny Depp kicks off the month voicing a gunslinging chameleon in the quirky animated comedy Rango (03/04), while other (partly) animated adventures offer friendly alien encounters in Mars Needs Moms (03/11) and Paul (03/18).

Serious literature gets the big-screen treatment with another cinematic makeover of Charlotte Brontë's classic Jane Eyre (03/11) and novelist Michael Connelly's adaptation of The Lincoln Lawyer (03/18). Meanwhile, Amanda Seyfried stars as the amped-up fairy tale heroine Red Riding Hood (03/11).

Expect even more fantastical treats such as Beastly (03/18), a modern take on Beauty and the Beast, the dystopian thriller Battle: Los Angeles (03/11) and Watchmen-director Zack Snyder's multi-dimensional action-flick Sucker Punch (03/25) all aiming to ignite the springtime.

► Sucker Punch opens March 25.

News in brief

Call her the guardian angel of Jamie Foxx's music career: The Oscar and Grammy winner said Tuesday his 16-year-old daughter, Corinne, gave him the best advice when he began recording music.

"When I first started, I was doing this little slow music, you know, just R&B ... and my daughter walked in and said, 'What you doing?' I said, 'I'm working on the album.' She said, 'I hope you don't put that on there because you going to put everybody to sleep,'" Foxx said.

Mirren enjoys films of a historical nature

Helen Mirren says she was compelled to make The Debt, a fact-based Holocaust drama about a former Mossad agent forced to confront her past as a Nazi hunter.

"This film, it's my history," Mirren says. "I was born after the war but only just, and I was brought up with (the war) very present in my youth. It was only 10 years before. It's like nothing when I think of it now."

Born Ilyena Mironov to a British mother and Russian father, Mirren wants to recognize what she calls "that profound part of living history. Americans in general have no idea of the suffer-

"I play this Hungarian peasant, a housekeeper, a cleaner," she says. "It's a kind of history of Hungary, a history of the suffering of the Hungarian people through World War II,

On a lighter note, Mirren addresses her recent upsurge in popularity, her film roles and that sex-symbol vibe.

"I guess it's a good thing," she says, laughing. "But all things pass. We can't get wedded to anything, and I hope the public doesn't get wedded to it either, because then they get really cross with you when it's not the case anymore. Somehow it's your fault, you know!"

Non-Christmasy Christmas Movie Quotes

Hamilton, have a holly jolly Christmas. Is Allen still handling the Fisher account?"

► From Babe's Ferdinand and the duck: "Christmas means carnage!"

► From L.A. Confidential's Sid Huggins (Danny DeVito): "It's Christmas Eve in the City of Angels and while decent citizens sleep the sleep of the righteous, hopheads prowls for marijuana, not knowing that a man is coming to stop them! Celebrity crimstopper Jack Vincennes, scourge of grasshoppers and dopefiends everywhere!"

► From Life of Brian: "We are three wise men." "Well, what are you doing creeping around a cow shed at two o'clock in the morning? That doesn't sound very wise to me."

► From American Psycho's Patrick Bateman: "Hey,

► From Driving Miss Daisy's Daisy Werthan (Jessica Tandy): "If I had a nose like Florene's, I wouldn't go around wishing anybody a Merry Christmas!"

NOT YOUR REGULAR CHRISTMAS

These days the malls are festooned with Christmas decorations by October, and Starbucks has its yuletide mugs out before the leaves have even turned. Last year a new version of A Christmas Carol opened in early November, and on TV A Christmas Story played for 24 solid hours on Dec. 25. It's easy to get Christmased-out long before the big day rolls around. There's too much tinsel, too many in-your-face Santas, but for movie fans it's possible to get a taste of the holidays without having to watch James Stewart contemplate ending it all.

Here are some Christmas movies for people who don't like Christmas movies:

Creepy Christmas

There are dozens of Christmas horror films with names like Silent Night, Deadly Night, but they're still too Christmasy for this list. I'm thinking more along the lines of American Psycho: who can forget Wall Street serial killer Patrick Bateman (Christian Bale) wearing reindeer antlers? Or, for that matter, the Christmas Eve viral outbreak that decimates the planet in I Am Legend.

Noel Noir

Lots of action/crime movies use Christmas as a setting, so much so that Die Hard and its sequel, both set on Christmas Eve, are regularly played as part of TV Christmas marathons. Others you may have forgotten are Lethal Weapon (Jingle Bell Rock plays during the opening credits), Goodfellas (The Ronettes sing Frosty the Snowman during a Christmas party, and later Henry Hill (Ray Liotta) gives his wife a wad of bills as a Christmas present) and L.A. Confidential, which opens on "Bloody" Christmas, 1951, when dozens of policemen beat seven incarcerated Latino men.

You Sleigh Me

Looking for holiday laughs? According to Monty Python's The Meaning of Life, every day in Heaven is Christmastime, complete with dancers dressed as sexy Santas. In Trading Places we first see Dan Aykroyd drunk and decked out as Santa on a bus eating crusty food stuck in his beard. Even funnier is Ferdinand and the duck's alarming exclamation "Christmas means carnage!" in the movie Babe.

Mistletoe Melodrama

Let's face it, Christmas brings a gamut of emotions, not just love and goodwill, and that's precisely why yuletide scenes are so effective in dramas. Far From Heaven, the Todd Haynes film about family secrets, uses a drunken Christmas party to unveil some hard truths. And, of course, without the Christmas scene in Citizen Kane there would be no Rosebud mystery.

"THE HOLIDAY'S BIGGEST COMEDY."

Movie review

See it twice 🌟🌟🌟🌟 | See it now 🌟🌟🌟 | Worth watching 🌟🌟 | Yawn 🌟 | Don't bother 🌟

Swift's story all but lost in this disaster

Gulliver's Travels

Genre: Comedy
Director: Rob Letterman
Stars: Jack Black, Jason Segel, Amanda Peet

Jack Black's latest film might be called Gulliver's Travels, but the only things it shares with Jonathan Swift's masterful satire is the title, the land of little people named Lilliput and a scene in which Gulliver empties his bladder to put out a fire.

Unless there's a giant robot battle not available in most editions of the novel, it has to be assumed that no one involved with this production bothered to read it. Instead they decided it would be a good idea to have a giant Jack Black try to teach an 18th-century society about Star Wars. Somehow, against all odds, the final movie turned out to be even worse than that description sounds.

The once entertaining Black hasn't found a project suited to his skills since School Of Rock, and it's painful to watch him embarrass himself as a slacker mail clerk who is transported to Lilliput through the Bermuda Triangle (no exaggeration, that's what happens). This abysmal movie is so ill conceived that it's hard to imagine even young children being forgiving enough to find it entertaining. The studio seems to agree, tacking on an unnecessary 3-D conversion to try and steal away as much money as possible from the poor suckers who accidentally buy a ticket for this Christmas turkey. PHIL BROWN

Cast lifts Richler classic

Barney's Version

Genre: Drama
Director: Richard J. Lewis
Stars: Dustin Hoffman, Paul Giamatti, Rosamund Pike
Barney's Version, based on Mordecai Richler's final novel, gives Paul Giamatti his most memorable part since Sideways. Utterly compelling as the kind of guy who calls his ex-wife's new husband with the offer of some nude pictures, "so you can see what she looked like in her prime," he glides — or more rightly put, drunkenly stumbles — through three wives, an accusation of murder and countless cigars toward a battle with Alzheimer's disease. While the filmmaking occasionally veers into TV-movie territory, Giamatti and the cast — Dustin Hoffman, Rosamund Pike and Minnie Driver — are by turns touching, caustic, hilarious and, above all, entertaining.

Dude vs. Duke

Jeff Bridges takes on the role in the Coen brothers' remake.

► Jeff Bridges reunites with the Coen brothers, who directed him as The Dude in 1998's The Big Lebowski
► In True Grit, Bridges offers a new take on John Wayne's original portrayal of boozy lawman Rooster Cogburn
► The directors and cast compare and contrast

Joel Coen

I don't think there's any of the Duke there. To the extent there's any of the Dude there, it's only to the extent that you're talking about somebody who's playing the same instrument, which is his own personality and physicality. ... He's quite a bit older, but he's still Jeff Bridges, and Jeff Bridges did this other character, and inevitably, there's part of the actor. No actor transforms a hundred per cent. ... Having said that, Jeff is a transformative actor, not a movie star who kind of always plays himself, and that's what's so interesting about him as an actor, and why again we wanted him to do this.

Ethan Coen

It's really not John Wayne. I think for everybody, the actors and us, the movie was done pretty much without reference to the other movie ... or to Big Lebowski. Although ... the one parallel was, on Big Lebowski, pretty much the only directing we were called upon to do with Jeff is, Jeff would walk up to us before a scene and ask, "Did the Dude burn one on the way over here for this scene?" And similarly, on this, the question was, "How drunk am I in this scene?"

Matt Damon

Jeff works out of a place of joy. ... Whereas some people might try to work from a darker place, he works from that kind of place of light, and you can feel it when you're with him, because he's genuinely joyful when he's working. I mean, there are things, like getting off the horse in the corn-dodger scene — where we're shooting the cornbread — his dismount and the jacket flying over his head. All those things are like little things that kind of actually happened because Jeff was totally into it at the moment. I didn't see those as Duke-esque or Dude-esque. That just seemed like Jeff kind of getting into the zone and having fun.

Hailee Steinfeld

I would say, if anything, more of the Dude than the Duke. ... I think that there needs to be another name created for his performance, but I do have to say, it's in the trailer, this one line — it's when Mattie says, "Can we depart this afternoon?" And he looks at her and says "We?" I think that's the biggest Dude moment.

Josh Brolin

There's no Dude in there. Yeah, there is. (Brolin imitates the Dude's occasional falsetto voice.) "Yeah, man. Hey, man. Yeah, man." ... The Dude has several keys, you know, octaves, and the Dude always goes high in the octave, and then once in a while — I'm just going with you here — Rooster, you know he's so dry, his voice is so low. It's like Nick Nolte. And once in a while, he'll go (Brolin makes a high-pitched hum). You know? And I go, there it is. There's Jeff. There's the Dude.

HOW TO SPEND THAT X-MAS CASH

Sound Check

ALAN

SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Let's assume that there will be some money under the tree tomorrow morning. Rather than do the responsible thing and save it or make a donation to charity, you'll want to blow it all on Boxing Day. But on what?

Buy a Turntable

Although there's some statistical evidence that the vinyl renaissance has plateaued, there's enough momentum in this fetishism for things to keep going for a while longer. The turntable market hasn't been this crowded in more than a decade.

If you're planning to rip your records to MP3 and then put them on the shelf, then think about a turntable that can be connected to your computer via USB. I've seen one of the ION models going for less than $80 online.

But if you're a purist and you plan to actually listen to your vinyl over and over again, spring for something more expensive (i.e. above $350). When rumours of the demise of the Technics SL-1200 started spreading last fall, I took the plunge last Dec. 26 on what will be the last turntable I ever buy. And now that Panasonic has confirmed that production will end in 2011, it's now or never ($800-$1,000).

Get That Box Set You've Been Lusting After

This year was a good one for high-end collections. The Soundgarden retrospective is one of my favourites featuring CDs, a DVD, vinyl (12-inch and seven-inch), posters, a book with liner notes and more ($150-ish). Beatles fans should look into the Lennon Signature Box (11 discs, 119 tracks) or the new Band on the Run deluxe set (four discs, including an audio documentary and a series of videos for about $90). And Springsteen fans really should have The Promise: The Darkness on the Edge of Town Story (three CDs, three DVDs plus an 80-page spiral-bound notebook of handwritten lyrics and pictures, all for about $95.)

Splurge on Apps

With hundreds of thousands of apps available across multiple platforms, there's something for everyone. SoundHound is an excellent music identification app ($4.99). Cleartune tunes any instrument perfectly ($3.99). Music Studio is a multi-track studio that lives in your pocket ($14.99). AmpliTube turns your iPhone or iPad into a personal amplifier (Free, but the real winner is the full version at $19.99). And NanoStudio is a stunning music-making app that pros love ($14.99).

Hilson backs Brown

► Singer herself has faced minor fan backlash over sexier image

Keri Hilson called her new album No Boys Allowed, but a collaboration with one young man has been drawing attention.

The pop-R&B singer has become the most prominent female artist to collaborate with Chris Brown since his arrest last year for attacking his then-girlfriend Rihanna. The album cut One Night Stand is her second duet with Brown, following Superhuman, recorded in 2008.

"I didn't want to be one of those women who is so unforgiving and be yet another person who is slapping him on his hand and crucifying him," Hilson said in an interview.

"You have to be allowed back into good graces, meaning, 'Let me earn my trust back to you, let me earn my respect back.' And Chris has done that. He's crawled back into the public eye. ... Women were so unforgiving. And I understand why. I don't condone what he did. But I also believe in second chances."

Hilson, 28, calls the 21-year-old Brown a friend and said she wants the public to separate his mistakes from his music. Despite repeated apologies and atonement-focused songs, Brown struggled to connect with pop audiences in 2010, releasing a series of mixtapes online in hopes of gaining traction, finally finding success with the No. 1 R&B hit Deuces.

Although Brown was recently nominated for three Grammys, Hilson blames unfair news coverage for his struggles.

"When you're an entertainer, I don't believe that anything you do in your personal life should undermine your creative efforts in any way," she said.

"She understands that what Chelsea did was out of loyalty, but it didn't help. In fact, it made things worse. Jen is a very private person."

Seasonal sippers

► The results are in! ► Canadians love their libations this time of year

Are holiday tipples an important part of the festive season? According to 82 per cent of Canadians, the answer is yes!

In a recent poll commissioned by Evangeline PR, more than 80 per cent of Canadians indicated that a glass of festive merriment is a yuletide must.

"Canadians love to celebrate during the holidays and mouth-watering cocktails (or mocktails) make the season that much more festive," says Sherri Zielinski, president of Evangeline PR.

To ensure your seasonal sips are a smashing success, here are the Top 10 tips to ensure your bar is holiday-ready:

• Ice is nice: Make extra and store it: you can never have too much.

• If you don't have a bar, consider purchasing a bar cart: it ensures more time is spent with your guests and not in the kitchen.

• Purchase festive-themed glassware in which to serve your tipples.

• Decorate your bar with colours of the season such as a red velvet underlay and a green or gold overlay.

• Stock up on seasonal garnishes such as cinnamon sticks, cranberries and candy canes to transform any drink into a holiday masterpiece.

• For no muss, no fuss cocktails, choose flavoured vodkas such as Three Olives Bubble that can be served alone, with pink lemonade or lemon-lime soda for a quick, two-ingredient delicious cocktail.

• Serve up some nostalgia with soda-fountain bar drinks from yesteryear. Try Three Olives Root ► Festive glassware can add some spirit to your spirits.

Beer vodka and treat your guests to a grown-up root-beer float.

• Create a custom menu with fun drink names; place in a holiday frame to display on your bar.

• Keep a slush bucket near your bar for leftovers when a sink isn't nearby or convenient.

• Drink responsibly: invite guests to stay overnight or pre-order taxis. NEWS CANADA

Float Santa's Boat Preparation:

1 In a frosted mug, add Three Olives Root Beer vodka and fill with club soda. Add 1 or 2 scoops of ice cream to the top. Garnish with whipped cream and a cherry

2 In an ice-filled rocks glass, add Three Olives Bubble vodka along with pink lemonade. Float a couple of fresh cranberries on top and garnish with a small candy cane.

Ingredients:

- 2 oz. Three Olives Root Beer Vodka
- 1-2 scoops Vanilla Ice Cream
- Club soda
- Maraschino cherry garnish
- 2 oz. Three Olives Bubble Vodka
- 2 oz. Pink lemonade
- Fresh cranberries
- Candy cane garnish

Thinking beyond the cane

► A few leftover sweets can make for an instant tree decoration.

Gingerbread, gumdrops, chocolates and shortbread ... the holidays wouldn't be the same without those special nostalgic treats to satisfy our yuletide sweet tooth.

According to Madeleine Johari, Canadian caterer and candy expert, "Sweets spark fond memories of the holidays more than any other food."

Johari says "distinctive flavours such as bubble gum, root beer, licorice and peppermint conjure up images of holidays past that inspire us to reminisce with friends and family. And that's what the holidays are all about!"

For some creative ways to incorporate nostalgic sweets into your holiday celebrations and create edible memories to last a lifetime, Johari recommends the following:

• Thread gumballs on a long piece of string to make a festive and colourful garland for your tree. It's also a great reward in January when it's time to take the decorations down.

• Create edible straws for drinks by replacing the plastic ones with licorice sticks for an extra sweet finish.

• Accessorize with sweets: on a silver platter, offer guests a selection of candy necklaces, rings, bracelets and more for easy access to the seductive smell and taste of sweets all night long: this is a kids favourite!

Christmas past

It's unanimous: Canadians prefer traditional Christmas celebrations to modern ones, so move over, Jonas Brothers ... Elvis is still King — at least during the holidays.

"The holidays are a time for nostalgia," says Canadian caterer Madeleine Johari. "We enjoy reminiscing about the 'good ole days' during the holidays, which is why retro-themed celebrations are so popular"

Music lovers from around the world have always made pilgrimages to hear the Wanamaker Grand Court Organ, which resides not in a church, but in a Philadelphia department store. It's the largest operational pipe organ in the world — some say the world's largest playable instrument. And on the eve of its 100th year of serenading shoppers, it's never sounded better.

But at Christmastime, the organ, a National Historic Landmark, belongs not to tourists so much as to Philadelphians. Its holiday organ concert and sweetly old-fashioned light show has for generations been as much of a local tradition as trimming the tree or sitting on Santa's lap.

Located in a Macy's that was originally the John Wanamaker chain's flagship store, the organ's polished mahogany console is tucked behind racks of sweaters and skirts. This time of year, crowds laden with bags and bundles overflow the soaring atrium, squeezing amid the women's shoes and pressing against glass jewelry cases for the hourly show. With narration by Julie Andrews, animated bears, snowflakes, nutcrackers and reindeer take visitors through a series of pre-recorded Christmas songs with a live organ concert as the finale.

"It's magical," said Margie Fitzpatrick, a native Philadelphian who fondly recalled organ concerts with her parents, then her children, and was at a recent show with her two-year-old granddaughter. "Hearing it just makes you feel blessed."

Superlatives are unavoidable when describing the symphonic, 287-ton organ. With 28,543 pipes, it embodies the sounds of not one orchestra, but three. In contrast, the organ at Notre Dame in Paris has about 8,000 pipes. St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City tallies about 9,000.

The Wanamaker pipes range from five millimetres to about 10 metres in length, are made of wood or metal, and span five

Extensive repairs over the past few years and vigilant upkeep now have the instrument — valued in excess of $57 million — performing at its peak.

Time runs out on MacLean in N.J.

CHARLES KRUPA/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Facing the prospect of missing the playoffs for the first time since 1997, the New Jersey Devils fired rookie coach John MacLean on Thursday and brought back the firm hand of Jacques Lemaire to try to salvage the season.

The Devils have been one of the most disappointing teams in the NHL this season. New Jersey is tied with the New York Islanders for the fewest points in the league with 20 in 33 games (9-22-2). Their 59 goals are also the fewest.

The 65-year-old Lemaire is expected to coach the team Thursday night against the Islanders.

"It's a decision that certainly is not one that's pleasant or we feel good about," Devils president and general manager Lou Lamoriello said. "But it's a decision that, in my opinion, had to be made."

Lamoriello made the decision two days after the Devils dropped a 5-1 decision to Washington for their third straight loss and eighth in nine games this month. The Devils have been outscored 15-3 in the last three games.

A perennial contender, the Devils were expected to be among the leaders again this season after re-signing all-star forward Ilya Kovalchuk to a 15-year, $100-million US contract in the off-season.

▶ 'I think I take a lot out of my dad's books,' says surprise pick and son of former NHLer Mike Foligno

Marcus Foligno hurls himself at opponents like a wrecking ball swung toward a building, wreaking havoc wherever his six-foot-one, 200-pound frame makes an impact.

It's not always pretty to watch, but it certainly is effective, and it's precisely what the Canadian national junior team had in mind when it somewhat surprisingly named him to the squad earlier this month.

In early November, the 19-year-old was barely on Hockey Canada's radar, and didn't really open eyes until he was added to the Ontario Hockey League all-star roster for a Super Series game against Russia on Nov. 15.

A strong showing that night earned him a longer look at the junior team selection camp earlier this month, and the relentless fashion in which he threw his weight around won over head scout Kevin Prendergast, head coach Dave Cameron and the rest of the staff.

"He came out of nowhere," Prendergast said in a recent interview. "We threw him in the game in Sudbury against the Russians and he was one of the best players on the ice and he earned the opportunity to get here. (At the camp) every time he was on the ice something happened."

"Kudos to him for earning a spot."

Bronco gets cited for assault

NFL PHOTOS

Broncos Pro Bowl linebacker Elvis Dumervil has been cited for assault and disturbing the peace for an alleged run-in with a security guard at Invesco Field.

Denver court records show the reported incident happened on Oct. 24, the day the Broncos were blown out 59-14 by the Oakland Raiders.

Dumervil's lawyer, Harvey Steinberg, told The Associated Press the linebacker forgot his credentials and a guard wouldn't allow him into a players' parking lot, despite Dumervil showing his driver's licence.

Steinberg said Thursday that it was a simple disagreement and that it's "unfair Elvis is being vilainized." The incident was first reported by Denver's KDVR-TV.

McNabb's agent goes on the attack

► Washington coaches slammed as 'disrespectful' over handling of QB
► Shanahan defends decisions as 'not personal, but strictly professional'

Ups and downs

► Donovan McNabb was benched only once in 11 years with Philadelphia, and he's already doubted that total with the Redskins since being acquired by the team in April.

► Redskins coach Mike Shanahan said he felt Rex Grossman had a better grasp of the team's two-minute offence.

► After benching him the first time, the Redskins gave McNabb a five-year contract extension worth up to $78 million US.

► The deal contains a clause that allows the Redskins to cut McNabb before next season with no further financial obligation.

The simmering feud between Donovan McNabb and Mike Shanahan and his son continued Thursday with a blistering statement from the quarterback's agent.

Fletcher Smith took aim directly at the Washington coach and Kyle Shanahan, the Redskins' offensive coordinator, for the way they have handled the benching of his client.

Smith said the bad blood between the quarterback and the Washington coaches is due to McNabb's suggestions for improving the Redskins' offence.

"I believe there is tension between Donovan and Kyle that's rooted in the fact that Donovan has suggested modifications to Kyle's offence based on intricacies Donovan has learned in his NFL career," Smith wrote. "For example, Donovan has asked all year that the team run more screen passes to help manage the pass rush more effectively. Ironically, Kyle decided to employ Donovan's suggestions after he unceremoniously benched him on Sunday."

McNabb listened to questions from reporters Thursday while sitting in his car after practice, but did not answer before driving off. He was benched before last Sunday's game against Dallas and told by Mike Shanahan that he would not play the remainder of the season. Smith said in a statement that the Shanahans have made comments that go beyond disrespectful and "unprecedented for a six-time Pro Bowl quarterback such as Donovan."

Smith said the comments made by the Shanahans — "both Mike and more specifically Kyle" — have made the quarterback's relationship with Washington difficult to maintain.

Late Thursday, Mike Shanahan responded with a statement of his own.

"As I stated earlier, when I traded for Donovan McNabb I had hoped that he would lead us to the playoffs," Mike Shanahan said. "No one wanted him to be more successful than me. When the team was 5-8 and mathematically out of the playoffs, I made the decision to evaluate our other two quarterbacks."

Rock GM downplays pre-season brawl

The National Lacrosse League is looking into a bench-clearing brawl this month in a pre-season scrimmage between the Toronto Rock and Buffalo Bandits.

"The league is currently in the process of reviewing the video of the brawl, and expects to issue discipline at some point next week," the league said yesterday in a statement.

The Dec. 15 game at the Iroquois Lacrosse Arena in Hagersville, Ont., was called in the third quarter after the brawl, with Buffalo leading 5-4.

The melee saw players coming off the bench and pairing off across the playing surface, with both goalies going at it.

Toronto GM Terry Sanderson asked that fans who watch the YouTube video of the brouhaha put it in perspective.

"They should realize it's no uglier than the hockey ones that I've seen, the baseball ones that I've seen," he said. "People sometimes try to, I believe, paint the lacrosse end of things as being very violent.

"Although it's something that nobody really condones, it's just there's not a lot of love lost between the two teams. It's pre-season, guys are just trying to let coaches know that they will do anything to make the club.

"When these things do happen, it's mass chaos ... guys just thought they had to settle things themselves, I guess."

Video of the incident shows it started after two players went at it near the Rock goal when a Bandit forward took offence at a cross-check from a Toronto defender as play resumed from a stoppage.

Other players on the floor watched as the two fighters went to the ground, and two officials stepped in to stop the encounter. But the Bandit kept swinging from the top position, prompting other Rock players — quickly followed by their Bandit markers — to approach.

Today's horoscope

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 Others can be in a downbeat mood if they so wish but you don't see the point. Whatever problems you may have in your life they can wait a few days until you are ready to deal with them.

♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 Is a partner or loved one telling you lies? Put your doubts and differences aside and make the most of the festive season.

♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 Someone whose support you tend to rely on will be difficult to get hold of today, but you don't need them. You have everything it takes to make the best of your current situation.

♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 You may think you can break the rules and get away with it and, who knows, maybe you can — but is it worth the risk. If it goes wrong the atmosphere over the holiday period will be frosty to say the least.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 23 Your logic circuits may tell you that certain things are not possible but at this time of year miracles are possible. You may not entirely believe that but act as if you do and it's quite likely you will work wonders.

♍ Virgo Aug. 24-Sept. 22 There is no point making a fuss about something you don't have the power to change. It's no big deal. Put it out of your head.

For today's crossword answers and for expanded horoscopes, go to metronews.ca

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 It might be wise to keep your opinions to yourself over the next couple of days, especially if you want a peaceful festive break.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 Everyone makes mistakes — yes, even a Scorpio — so don't beat yourself up about something you got wrong. Compared to most people you get things right more often than not, so forgive yourself.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21 Why do you impose so many limits on yourself? Why do you have to be perfect all the time? Whatever the reason (assuming there is a reason) cut yourself some slack today.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 20 You may be extraordinarily ambitious but even you can ease off a bit at this time of year. In fact, if you relax physically and mentally over the next few days you'll come up with some great ideas.

♓ Pisces Feb. 19-March 20 Don't worry if you find it hard to concentrate today. At this time of year you have the perfect excuse to let your mind wander — there's just so much going on. SALLY BROMPTON
